

ALEXANDRIA.

THURSDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 3.

The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette says that Gen. Grant has finally thrown himself into the arms of the Radicals, and "is now substantially their candidate for the next Presidency." He, also, says that it is reported, "on higher authority than Presidential assurances," that Secretary Seward and Minister Adams are soon to change places, and that it is certain that Grant will shortly vacate his post at the War department. Specific "charges of a grave character" are also said to be pending against Mr. McCulloch.

It is said that the public debt statement will not be ready for two or three days. It will show some reduction in the debt, but there is a corresponding reduction in the Treasury, and therefore the aggregate reduction of debt, as compared with last month, will be small. The Secretary authorizes a flat denial of the report published in some papers that there has been an over-issue of fractional currency. He is certain, on the contrary, that the Government has gained something by the wearing out and destruction of currency.

Reports are in circulation at Boston of trouble with one or two of the Providence banks, and also in regard to a Newburyport cotton mill. The failure of a New York manufacturing company was also reported at Boston. Another National bank is reported to have gone by the board, located in Oneida county. New York, and known as the National Bank of Whitestown. Its capital is $120,000, which is said to have been somewhow frittered away, rendering it probable that the stockholders will have to endure the assessments

The Richmond Whig learns from the U. S. Paymaster of the Richmond district, that the government pays the troops in and around the city of Richmond $125,000 per month, making a million and a half dollars per annum. This added to the amount expended in the Commissary, Quartermaster's and Subsistence depart ments, makes the amount approximate, in the aggregate, $5,000,000!

The reciprocity treaty between this Government and the Hawaiian Government of the Sandwich Islands has been ratified by the authorities at Honolulu, and will be sent to the Senate at the next session for its action thereon. There is much discussion about the designs of the U. S., and the probabilities of "annexation," &c.

Information from Charleston, S. C., received last night, states that Gen. Canby has instruct ed the post commandant at Wilmington, N. C., not to interfere with the execution of the processes of the Federal courts, stayed by Gen. Siekles' order No. 10, and that U. S. Marshal Goodloe will soon commence to carry them into

A party of Swiss immigrants arrived in Lynchburg a few days ago, and reported to the Virginia Immigration Society. They are, says the Virginian, suited for farm-hands, grape dressers, &c., and desire employment.

The Arlington Estate, the property of the wife of Gen. Robert E Lee and her children, (left to them by the will of the late G. W. P. Custis) was sold by the U. S. Tax Commissioners, Hawkhurst and Watson, on the 11th of June, 1864, for non-payment of the direct war tax, $93.67 with 50 per cent penalty and 10 per cent interest, and was bid in for the U. S. Government, the officers of which hold it still as a Freedmen's Village, farm, school houses, cemetery, &c., &c.

Chancellor Harrison, of Tenessee, has decliced to grant the injunction asked by Mayor Brown, of Nashville, in behalf of the old city authorities. Yesterday Col. Blackburn, with a company of cavalry, under orders from Gen. Cooper, demanded of Mayor Brown the possession of the Mayor's office archives of the city. Mayor Brown submitted to military force, and Col. Alden, the new Mayor, was put in possession. A large crowd had collected in the public square, and cheers were given for Brown as he left the office. There were no signs of a liot shown.

A member of the National Radical Executive Committee says that a correspondence has taken place between many of the different members of the committee relative to the place for holding the next national convention .-Chicago, Indianapolis, and Cincinnati were the most prominent places suggested. It seems probable that Chicago will be fixed upon as the place for holding the convention.

Intelligence received at the Treasury Depart ment in Washington shows that the Collector of the Fifth District in Pennsylvania and his deputies were driven away by a large body of men from an attempted investigation of certain whiskey distilleries. The Department on Tuesday called upon the United States Marshal in Philadelphia to assist the collector with an armed posse.

Some days ago Mr. Defrees the Public Printer, began the printing of the impeachment evidence, but yesterday he stopped, and no more of the evidence will be put into print until Congress meets. The branch mint at Charlotte, N. C., is soon to be put into full operation, for assaying purposes only. It is represented that working operations have been recommenced in mines which were neglected during the late war, and that the receipts of gold at this mint are on the increase, not only from localities in North Carolina, but from contiguous States.

Gen. Gen. Grant, says a dispatch to the New York Herald, is still backing away at the superfluous expenses of the War Department, and the consternation created in the department by one of his curtailing orders is only equalled by the trepidation caused by others which are believed to be impending.

Philadelphia papers say that it has been as certained that the destruction to glass alone in that city by the hale storm on the 25th ultimo amounts to the large sum of $250,000. There was more glass broken than could be replaced by all the stores and factories in the city.

VIRGINIA NEWS. The Richmond Dispatch says: "The officers of the Internal Revenue Department in this city on Tuesday, made a descent on the private residence of a gentleman, living at the northern end of Twenty fifth street, and found that he had been manufacturing tobacco for some time in a private way. Two tobacco screws and one thousand bounds of tobacco were seized. -We learn that there are several other private institutions of the same kind in the city, and the detectives are after them."

Mr. Shanks, member of Congress from In diana, in a speech at Richmond last night, said that if President Johnson was guilty of the charges against him he would be impeached, and, "even with the aid of the Maryland militia he was arming, he would be powerless to do anything, as the men of the North were ready at the tap of the drum to quell him and his militia."! THE FEDERAL GENERALS.—Sherman, the brightest man in the army, has not been spoken of in connection with the position of President. It is reported that he is a Democrat; but as far as appearances since the war are to be considered, his Democracy won't hurt him. McClelland has been beaten once, and he, too, is a Democrat. It is somewhat singular that McClelland, Fitz John Porter, and Franklin. Democrats, were killed off, though they were really amongst the most accomplished gentlemen and soldiers in the Federal army; and Meade, another Democrat, who absolutely fought the decisive battle of the war-that of Gettysburg-and who commanded the Army of the Potomac from that time until the close of the war, is never mentioned. He is spoken of nor honored no more than if he had not been in the army at all. These men did not belong to the Radical crop and hence they were politically ham-strung. Yet, in the vicissitudes of party, they may come to the top of the wheel. -Richmond Dispatch.

Dry Goods in New York. There has been rather less activity in the dry goods trade during the past week than at any time since the fall season commenced; but this dullness has not been owing to any permanent derangement of business, and we look for a revival in October, which will probably prove so far made must, in most cases, be duplicated before winter. The near trade has not yet set n, and the far South, on account of the pesti lence in the Gulf States, has been delayed a full month, and may be delayed some weeks longer. The panic in the money market, the advance of interest, and the anticipated decline in the price of cotton, have all had their effect in creating a temporary dullness.

AMERICAN CLAIMANTS TO HULL PROPERTY. To the Editor of the Alexandria Gazette:

In the city of Hull, on the Humber river, in England, there was one: a part, now built over and comprehending the principal business por tion of the city-owned by William Newton, and known by the name of "Newtons Old

Some years before the war of the revolution he emigrated to America, and established himself in Stafford county, in Virginia. In his last will and testament, made seventy-eight years ago, he devised to his eldest son, John Newton, and to his heirs, all right and title to his estates in Yorkshire, in Great Britain, at the town of Hull on the Humber river, and a farm at a county village, Campbell's Forth .--At that time these estates were of compa a ive ly trifling importance, and like many others of English descent, the children of William Newton were more interested in building up their fortunes in America, than in investigating those to which they were entitled across the ocean. By degrees, the limits of Hall were enlarged, the city became more wealthy and influential, and the unappropriated grounds of "Newton's Old Fields" were included, and are now covered by more than one half of the present corporation. After seventy eight years have passed the American claimants to this splendid property have become excited to their real interest, and vigorous measures will be immediately institututed for establishing their right to this estate. As the number of heirs are comparatively few, and the title thought to be legally unquestionable, it will become a matter of great interest to watch the prosecution of a claim which may transfer to American hands from one half to three-fourths of one of the wealthiest of the manufacturing towns of Old England, and as the legatees to this estate are direct, and not difficult of placing, like those of the famous Jenning's estate, thereby the contingencies of family identity will be overcome; and as similar contingencies and technicalities attached to the Ingraham claim upon the city of Leeds cannot attach to the claim of the Newton heirs, there seems to be much more than the mere shadow of a probability, that they will be able to substantiate their pretensions, and recover the inheritance from their ancestors of Great

OBITUARY.

Colonel CHARLES B. TEBBS, of Loudoun county, died at Charlottesville, at 42 o'clock, on Thursday evening, the 26th of September, in the 47th year of his age. In the death of Col. Tebbs, this community has lost one of its mo t useful and estimable citizens—the bar one of its ablest and most conspicuous members-the Sabbath School a zealous and devoted officerhis family a kind and affectionate head-the church and society, generally, an honest, christian gentleman. He was of quick and impulsive nature, but no truer heart ever throbbed in the breast of man. Ever ready to give counsel or assistance to the weak or the distressed, and moved by the tenderest emotions at the sorrow of the afflicted-he was, at the same time, the most scrupulously conscientious man we ever knew, following where duty led, even though in so doing his generous soul was wrung with anguish. For several years he was Com-monwealth's Attorney for this county, which position he filled with marked ability-ever tempering justice with mercybut fearlessly vindicating the supremacy of the law, while his eyes dimmed with tears at the misfortune of the offender. At the commencement of the war, Col. Tebbs commanded the Lou-loun Guard, of the 17th Virginia Regiment -he was afterwards made Lieutenant Colonel of the heroic Sth. He was gallant and chivalric in the field, as he was gentle and kind in the private walks of life; and in the service of a cause which he espoused with all the earnestness of his nature, was sown the seed of disease that was only eradicated in Death. When the messenger came, though far away from his little children, and the kind friends he loved so well, he received the summons with a smile, and as the sweet words of resignation, 'not my will, oh Lord, but thine be done," died upon his lips, he sank as one to pleasant dreams, to land, about fifty yards from the junction, and 100 from the Canal-separated from No. 1 by awake to an immortality of bliss beyond the grave. His remains were brought to this town on Saturday, and interred in the family burying ground, -attended to the grave by the Odd Fellows, of which organization he was a member, and a large concourse of sorrowing friends.
